BRIEF COURSE IN PSYCHIATRIC RESEARCH

The Research Capacity Building Committee (RCBC), Indian Psychiatric Society – South Zone (IPSSZ), found it wonderful to host courses in Research Methodology in 2021 & 2022. 72 professionals from IPS-SZ benefited from this 5-6 month-long exercise over the last two years.

We have been emboldened and encouraged by the many positive feedbacks to this course and therefore plan to conduct the same course this year too. The details regarding the course are shown below:

WHAT IS THE COURSE ABOUT:

This is intended to be a course beyond the basics of research programs as may be covered for postgraduates. This will focus on Clinical Psychiatry and the enormous potential for further research. It is intended to help psychiatrists conceptualize research as part of their careers.

The course will revise the basics of research and statistics, help the trainees review key studies from India and other countries and thoughtfully draw conclusions. We will have trainees develop research ideas and write proposals individually / as a team. There will be a focus on publication skills too.

The course will largely focus on clinical research. The training sessions will include:

- Observational research designs (cross-sectional, case-control, cohort, registries)
- Qualitative studies
- Randomized controlled Designs
- Selecting appropriate tools in psychiatric research
- Journal clubs to cover each type of study design (Indian & International)
- Biostatistics (parametric tests, non-parametric tests, correlation, regression, survival analysis)
